The Intergenerational Program

The intergenerational program provides care for children and adults who seek interaction and support in a nurturing environment. The children and adults meet daily in both planned and unplanned activities.

As the seniors experience benefits from the children's presence, the children benefit by becoming acquainted with people of an older generation. They learn to be more accepting of the differences among people and enjoy spending time together in a variety of ongoing activities.

Child Program

Mount Olivet Day Services child care program provides a safe and loving environment for the social, physical, emotional, and cognitive development of children between the ages of six weeks and pre-kindergarten.

Our license allows us to serve approximately 82 children. Full-time and part-time options are available. The hours of operation are Monday through Friday from 7:00 A.M. to 6:00 P.M.

Low teacher-child ratios are maintained to establish a secure and trusting relationship between each child, his or her family, and staff. Each classroom offers a daily schedule that is developmentally appropriate to the ages of the children. Days are filled with child-initiated and teacher-directed activities which support individual growth and development. Learning experiences in the child care program include sensory activities, process art, large motor activity, dramatic play, literacy awareness, intergenerational programming, and a focus on social and self-help skills. Additional programming includes music therapy, Spanish, community field trips and kindergarten-readiness skills.

Providing a unique opportunity for intergenerational interaction in a nurturing and secure environment, Mount Olivet Day Services is a nondenominational program designed to provide quality integrated and separate adult and child day care.

"Generations are not competitors for life's satisfactions; they are partners in the search for well-being."

Harold Sheppard, Gerontology Educator
